

Please keep the do not call list. As a busy mom, there was nothing more frustrating than running to get the phone and finding a sales call. Now I actually stop and answer surveys and take the time to listen to fund raising. Plus, I do not feel badly that I am hanging up on some poor working person because that was my 10th unwanted call that day!